New awards To celebrate South Asian Women's achievements

Nominations sought for 'Women Empowered' In Lothian

A new awards event, 'Women Empowered' is being launched to celebrate the achievements of outstanding South Asian women living in Edinburgh and Lothian area.

The event will recognise South Asian women of all ages who have demonstrated excellence, commitment and passion in diverse activities from business to the arts and community and voluntary work.

It is being organised by Nari Kallyan Shangho an innovative health and welfare project for women and children in the Lothian area.

The organisation is calling on women to nominate themselves or a friend or colleague and to submit entries of no more than 500 words (or one side of an A4 sheet) describing their achievements.

Nominations, which must be received by the deadline of May 11 2009, may be accompanied by supporting material such as official documents, photographs, or letters of thanks or commendation from community leaders.

The inaugural 'Women Empowered' Awards will culminate in a ceremony on June 29 at the Assembly Rooms in Edinburgh.

Bookings for the evening are currently being taken.
